

Software

How does the export function work?

The export function can be used in two ways. On the one hand side you can export a complete study to use it on a different computer.

To export a study, go to File > Export > Study

On the other hand side it is possible to export a single data channel or sensor as raw data.

To export raw data, go to File > Export > Data and select the data that you would like to export.

Unique solution ID: #1017

Author: Ergoneers GmbH

Last update: 2015-03-04 15:44